

Soprano Lisa Mulgrew, born and raised in Lethbridge, Alberta, completed her Bachelor of Music from the University of Lethbridge in the spring of 2012, studying with Dr. George Evelyn and Dr. Sandra Stringer Conlon. Lisa is an alumna of the University of Western Ontario, where she completed her Master of Literature and Performance in Music 2015 under the tutelage of Todd Wieczorek. During her time at Western University, Lisa had the opportunity to play the Female Chorus in UWOpera's The Rape of Lucretia, as well as being a featured artist in their Opera Gala. She was also a finalist in the Maritsa Brooke's Concerto competition, and had the great honour of singing Mahler's Rückert-Lieder with the UWO Orchestra April 2015. Lisa's international appearances have notably included performing the title role in Madama Butterfly with La Musica Lirica in Novafeltria, Italy, in the summer of 2015. Lisa is a roster singer for Cowtown Opera Company in Calgary, Alberta, and was featured in their latest Cowtown Cabaret production, Prison Divas, in February 2017. She is very much looking forward to returning for Cowtown Opera's 2017/2018 season, and is excited to be involved in two Cowtown Opera productions, including the Canadian premier of William Todd's Alice's Adventures in Wonderland. Lisa was recently awarded third place in the prestigious Eckhardt-Gramatté National Music Competition in May 2017 in Brandon, Manitoba. Currently residing in Lethbridge Alberta, Lisa is a faculty voice instructor at the University of Lethbridge Music Conservatory.
